

Isn't it un-Democratic to place media distribution under a single conglomerates control? If this vote was happening in Europe of the 1940's it would be understandable as a perfect medium for propaganda and would be touted today as a BAD thing. But in the year 2003 SOME of those in power think this is a GOOD idea?